REPRESENTATIVE DONAHUE RESIGNS FROM WOBURN CITY COUNCIL

Representative Thomas F. Donahue, 75 Pine Street, representing Woburn, Wilmington, Reading and North Reading, resigned from the Woburn City Council, of which he was a member, last Thursday evening.

The move came as a surprise to the members of the Woburn City Council.

Donahue, a Democrat in State politics held his position on the Woburn Council on a non-partisan basis.

Letter of Resignation follows:

March 6, 1958
To the Honorable City Council,
City of Woburn,
City Hall, Woburn,
Massachusetts

I hereby submit herewith my resignation as Alderman representing Ward Five in the City of Woburn.

After giving this matter serious thought and consideration I regret that I had to come to this decision.

As your representative in the General Court of Massachusetts which requires full time representation and in the best interests of the residents of Ward Five, the twofold duties are of such a nature that I find it impossible to do justice to both positions.

To the people of Ward Five who have been both patient and faithful, and desirous of having me serving them as Alderman for many years I wish to express my sincere thanks.

To the members of your Honorable body, and former members it certainly was a pleasure serving with you, and many thanks for the cooperation and courtesies extended me while a member of your honorable body.

To the people of the 18th Middlesex District I wish to serve you in the General Court with full time representation with the best of my ability.

To my successor, I extend my best wishes and success representing Ward Five in your honorable body.

Sincerely yours,
Thomas F. Donahue

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS AT ROTARY LUNCHEON HEAR CANADIAN VISITOR

Typifying the spirit of Rotary International and its aim of bringing closer the peoples of countries throughout the world, the distinction of the oratorical contest jointly sponsored by the Wilmington Rotary Club and the Quebec Club was realized last Wednesday when the Canadian winner spoke in Wilmington.

Herbert Monaghan, winner of the contest in Quebec, spoke on "Choosing a Vocation." The youthful speaker brought out the advantages of education in a country as rich in natural resources as Canada, and of the lack of trained men in the dominion. In his rich voice the young man said, "Canada as a nation is poorer every time a student does not take advantage of education."

He also thanked the Rotary members here for giving him the opportunity to visit them, and thanked Edward Osberg, John Collins and Fred Cain for the hospitality shown him.

Also present at the luncheon was the winner of the contest in Wilmington, Harold White, who spoke last week at the club and told of his trip to Quebec.

Among the distinguished visitors present at the luncheon was Alexander Boudreau, Canadian Consul General. Mr. Boudreau addressed the gathering, expressing his appreciation for the home paid the brilliant young Canadian, and his hope that the two nations may be brought even closer together by such two-way travel.

Another visitor was Past District Governor George Burns who congratulated the club for their efforts to bring together international goodwill and peace by the contest.

The present governor, Ken Faulkner, spoke briefly, "No other club in my district gives me the excitement that the Wilmington club does," Mr. Faulkner said.

On the receiving end of much praise was Edward Osberg, chairman of the international committee, man of the international committee. Mr. Osberg, who arranged the contest and visits, was warmly applauded for his efforts.

Films taken by a WBZ-TV cameraman at the affair were shown on the 11 o'clock news Wednesday evening.

William Rich Granted Permit For Additional Storage

The application of William Rich of Main St. for additional gasoline storage at his garage, in anticipation of enlarging his retail gas business, met strong opposition Monday evening at a public hearing before the Board of Selectmen, with the result that 1000 additional gallons storage was granted instead of the 7000 Mr. Rich applied for.

Mr. Rich and his attorney, Joseph Cahill of Reading, spoke for the petition while abutters Stanley Webber and A. B. Sweeney opposed the request. Mr. Sweeney owns a lumber firm next to the garage in question. Mr. Webber owns land adjacent to the garage and also owns land across the street which is leased to an oil firm. Mr. Sweeney protested that his home would be within 69 feet of the tanks and that it would be an annoyance. He also opposed the proposal on grounds that the additional storage would constitute a fire hazard to his property.

Mr. Webber claimed that Mr. Rich has used his land without authorization and over Mr. Webber's protest in the past and that he thought that Mr. Rich would not conduct his business in a reputable manner as he felt he had not done so in the past.

Selectman Nicholas DeFelice also opposed the increase on grounds that other firms in town who did large retail business had, in some cases, smaller tank area than the 6,300 gallon capacity. Mr. Rich now is licensed for Mr. DeFelice consulted the records to show the storage capacity of the other garages and filling stations.

Following Mr. DeFelice's protest, Mr. Cahill asked if he understood that Mr. DeFelice was a member of the board. Hearing that he was, the attorney said that he had thought him an abutter and in view of his opposition felt that he was biased and should not be a member of the ruling board on the matter. Chairman Hagerty ruled that Mr. DeFelice had a right to give his views.

Mr. Rich maintained that he could get a lower price if he could buy gas in greater quantity, a fact Mr. DeFelice disputed. Chairman Hagerty said that he did not feel that the price break would be a justifying argument for a 7,000 gallon increase.

The board discussed the matter at length and agreed to allow Mr. Rich 6,000 gallon retail gasoline storage, 1,000 gallon storage for his personal use, and 300 gallons diesel oil storage.

Apparently the stalemate concerning repairs to the Shawheen Ave. bridge has been broken by the intervention of Gov. Furcolo's office. The B. and M. has agreed to start repair of the bridge within two weeks, and the town to temporarily police the structure.

Chairman of the board of selectmen Frank Hagerty suggested Monday evening that the credit for the long-awaited break in the deadlock situation be given to the governors office.

A meeting with William Goggins of the governor's office, Town Counsel Phillip Buzzell and a Mr. Pryor of the B. and M. resulted in an agreement under which the town promised to install large signs indicating a six ton maximum load limit on the bridge and post police officers for two days on the bridge to see that the rule is abided by. (However, the officers will have no authorization to suggest alternate routes.) The police will follow up with periodic checks to see that the regulations are kept.

Following is the letter which the selectmen sent Mr. Pryor confirming the agreement.

March 17, 1958
Dear Sirs:
Confirming your conversation with Mr. William Goggins of Governor Furcolo's staff on March 5, 1958, and with Mr. Phillip B. Buzzell, Town Counsel of Wilmington on March 13, 1958, the Town of Wilmington by its Board of Selectmen and Acting Town Manager agrees as follows:

We'll install prominent signs indicating a 6 ton maximum load limit at either end of the Shawheen Avenue Bridge to conform with the requirements of Sections 34 and 35 of Chapter 85 of the General Laws. For a period of two days after the reopening of the bridge we will post a police officer at the site to enforce this regulation. After that period of two days we will arrange to have the Wilmington Police make periodic checks to enforce the regulation.

Upon receipt of this letter we understand that the Boston & Maine Railroad will begin repairs on the subject bridge within two weeks and prosecute the completion of same as rapidly as possible.

Very truly yours,
Frank Hagerty, Chm.

JOHNS-MANVILLE
COMBATS
BUSINESS DIP

Manville, N.J., Special — Johns-Manville Corporation made public today a positive seven-point program to combat effect of the current business dip on its operations and to help offset the cost-price squeeze that has increasingly affected J-M and industry generally during the past year.

It was explained in detail to stockholders at the annual meeting held for the first time at the Johns-Manville Research and Engineering Centers, here, largest facilities in the world devoted to building materials, insulations and allied industrial products, on the occasion of the Company's 100th anniversary.

As outlined by A. R. Fisher, Chairman and President, and Clinton B. Burnett, Executive Vice President, the program is now well underway to enable Johns-Manville to "produce more, sell more and earn more."

Although the program is already confident it will help sales, reduce costs and improve earnings this year, they think it unlikely that the continuing squeeze on profits can be entirely offset in 1958 due to business conditions beyond control of any one company. The Company-wide program is being directed aggressively from the Chairman and President's Office.

About a year ago Johns-Manville stepped-up action that had been underway for five or six years to cut growing costs of doing business, stockholders were informed. As the plan developed it was widened to embrace virtually all activities of the Company, including:

1. Company-wide action to simplify and standardize office methods, utilizing more mechanical equipment while reducing reports and paper work.

2. Production methods, processes and materials at the Company's 26 plants and 4 mines in the U.S., Canada, Belgium and Southern Rhodesia are being re-studied to improve products while cutting manufacturing costs.

3. Sales territories and supervision in the U.S., Canada, and overseas are being realigned where necessary to increase sales volume produced by 1,600 salesmen with 10,000 years of experience.

4. To assure proper integration of new and expanded facilities, a re-appraisal of the entire Johns-Manville organization is underway. Work loads of many staffs have already been cut back with consequent reduction in personnel. In the operating divisions many sales staff people have been placed in direct selling positions. Reduced expenses are being reported from all over the Company representing permanent cuts in overhead costs.

4. Top priority is being given to capital expenditures for cost reduction purposes that can be put into immediate use and pay for themselves quickly.

6. A new, aggressive advertising campaign has been stepped-up to move Johns-Manville products on the basis that such aid is needed more than ever in times of business setbacks.

7. Company dealers and distributors are being given the increased sales promotion aid traditional with Johns-Manville in times of general business stress.

Mr. Fisher told the Johns-Manville stockholders that increasing costs of doing business all over the country is a big factor in the cost-price squeeze. These costs include higher taxes, higher material prices, increased freight rates, higher wages, salaries and personnel benefits. "We have not been able to increase prices to compensate for these higher costs and still remain competitive," he said.

"Despite the current let-down, our country is still doing business at a very high level," he said. "We have become so accustomed to breaking records that we are startled when we do not continue to break records. It is too early to predict realistically what Johns-Manville's sales and profits will be this year. I am optimistic for the long range future of the Company."

"If we in Johns-Manville permitted ourselves to be discouraged by temporary setbacks, our Company never would have weathered wars and depressions, economic upsets in industry and business recessions during the last century," Mr. Fisher said.

"Throughout the 100 years of our Company's progress we have always emerged the stronger after these adjustments whether they were mild, spotty or embraced the whole economy."

THE LIONS ROAR

by Fred Kleynen

The meeting Wednesday night was one of interest to all. Reports on the various committees were made and accepted.

The dance committee reports that all the tickets are out in circulation and may be had from any Lion member. Two of the numbers you may call to ask for tickets are as follows: OL 8-2501 and OL 8-3341. The ball committee has promised that you can take in this, the annual spring dance. The Andover Country Club is the scene and the music is to be supplied by that well-known group, Jack Hennessey and his men. The admission price is held at the same point of $4.50 per couple and a buffet will be served.

The entertainment committee has announced that our club will have a joint meeting with the other service club in town (can't remember its name just now) at a very near future date. We are to furnish the guest speaker for the occasion and it should be a very enjoyable evening. It was last year.

The tentative date has been set for May 14, more on this later.

A guest speaker for the next meeting is being planned by the committee.

The convention committee reports that plans are underway and that the members may begin putting the ticket money in the hands of the chairman anytime now. Let's try to get the entire club down to Swampscott for at least the night of the banquet.

The clothing drive has been closed and the committee wished to extend a vote of thanks to all who helped us put it over.

Well, so much for this week. Will see you again in the same place, one week from today. Remember, for the "ball of your life, let's make it at the Lions Ball" on April 11, at the Andover Country Club.

THE SMALL CUB

There will be a regular business meeting of the chapter this evening at the quarters on Grove Ave.

This will be a most important meeting. The annual election of officers will be held and every member should attend. If at all possible, plans will be discussed for the forthcoming installation of officers. We hope to see a large turnout at this meeting.

The Disabled American Veterans urges every eligible veteran to join the DAV this year, not only for his own benefit but because of his duty to his fellow-disabled veterans.

The Commander of Chapter 106 of the DAV here, Mr. James Simpson said today that every disabled veteran has a duty to support the cause of all other disabled veterans, just as he had an obligation to support the comrades with whom he fought side by side in the wartime service of this country.

He said, "I feel that many disabled veterans today do not realize the part the DAV has played in securing the many benefits they now enjoy. To protect these benefits, they should join with us and add their strength to the one organization devoted exclusively to further their welfare."

He extended an invitation to all eligible veterans in the Wilmington area to attend the next meeting of Chapter 106 of the DAV on Wed., March 19, at the quarters on Grove Ave. For additional information about the DAV and its local chapter, call OL 8-3687.

WILMINGTON FIREMEN'S
ASSOCIATION

W. F. A. HI-LITES

Will begin with what I was hoping for last week. Today I can report that all went well for the department at the town meeting. You folks gave us the ladder truck which the chief requested and the civil defense director received the rescue unit he requested. Thanks to all of you who turned out and gave the chief a vote of confidence.

Yesterday we had occasion to watch Billerica put their ladder truck to good use on a fire. Chief Boureau was in Billerica for a demonstration and he really got a good one right on the scene. While he and two of our boys were there, a box alarm came in and the ladder was dispatched to the scene of the fire.

The association has voted to restore the old hand tub and steps are underway now to do just that. This hand tub of ours is one of three which are still in existence and is a relic or antique.

Last Tuesday evening's meeting was held and plans were discussed at length for our annual association banquet to be held sometime in April.

Folks, before closing, let me once again remind you that when you are reporting a fire, please don't hang up until we have all the necessary information as to type and your address. There are quite a few duplicate names and streets in town and it makes it hard to guess just where Mr. John Public lives if he does not give a definite address.

Well, so long for now,

After the luncheon the following visiting rotarians: from Rev. George Bruns, Warren Schaalmann, from Melrose, Kenneth Faulkner, from Winchester, Les Whittaker, Chubb Howe, from Woburn, Joe Cavicchi, Doc Atwood, Len O'Keefe, from Reading, Cal Wood, Jim Putnam, and from Lowell, Warren Moulton.

Guests: Bob Woods was introduced by Al Altman, Charles Ritchie by Henry Porter, John Cronin by D. Davis, Ted Nichols by Guy Nichols, Larz Neilson, by John Ellis, Arthur Hayden, by Roger Hayden, Frank Hagerty, Charles Raffi by Carl Totman, Bernard McMahon by John Gleason, and Keenan Spencor, Attache to the Canadian Consul General.

It was voted that the report of the nominating committee be adopted and that the secretary cast one ballot for the following officers for 1958-1959: President, Henry Foster; Vice President, Rufus Stevens, Jr.; Secretary, Stanley Cummings; Treasurer, Davenport Davis; Sergeant at Arms, Ralph Swanson.

Also the following to serve with the officers as the board of directors: Raymond Fitch, Harry Huntley, Algot Osterman, Henry Porter, and John Gleason.

The president turned the meeting over to Ed Osberg, the international committee chairman. Mr. Osberg explained to the group how the Quebec Canada Club and the Wilmington Club got together and worked out an oratorical contest in their respective high schools. The Wilmington winner Harold White went to Quebec and addressed that group, and so the Wilmington club was honored in having the Quebec winner Herbert Monaghan, address them. His subject was "Choosing a Vocation." It was an outstanding talk, and was well received by the group.

The Canadian Consul General Mr. Alexander Boureau was called upon next to address the group. He gave a very inspiring talk along the line that we should not take too lightly the friendship that has been enjoyed by the two countries for so many years.

Past District Governor George Bruns was called upon for a few words. He congratulated the Wilmington club on their many achievements, and especially the exchange of the two winners of this oratorical contest.

The present governor, Ken Faulkner, was then introduced, and he also was clated over the accomplishments of the local club. He stated that no club in his district gave him the excitement that the Wilmington club does.

The meeting was closed with a standing ovation to Ed Osberg, who made the program possible. Ed gave his thanks, and also thanked the men from station WEE-TV who made it possible for part of the program to appear on television.

Current facts about opportunities in occupations and professions in New England.

A group of 80 high school guidance directors are co-operating with the Occupational Information Service at Northeastern University in the presentation of a series of stations of the Yankee Network this Spring. These programs will supply factual information about 15 different fields of work.

Tape Recordings: Two 15 minute tape recordings will be made of each program in the spring series. For example, on one side of a 15 minute tape we will find the answers to such questions as: "What is it like to be a chemist?" and on the other side answers to the questions, "What is it like to Major in Chemistry in College?" and "What should I do in High School in Preparing for a College Program in Chemistry?"

The tapes in this series may be borrowed or purchased. As one receives a tape, he will also receive a list of the questions answered on each side of the tape together with a list of printed material which would be of value to a student who is considering the field under discussion.

Youth Conference

Two Lenten evangelistic services geared especially for teen-age youth will be held at the new chapel of the First Baptist Church, Wilmington on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, March 26 and 27, at 7:30 and is being sponsored by the Junior and Senior High BYF's of the church. Speaking at both services will be Rev. Stanley Allaby, pastor of the Black Rock Congregational Church, Bridgeport, Conn., who is one of New England's most dynamic preachers to youth. A young man himself, Stan preaches straight from the shoulder in language easily understood by young people. This will be the first time he has preached in 1954 and 55 he conducted successful Youth Crusades in Reading, Mass.

Also taking part in these two services will be the Gordon Divinity School Men's Quartet and its accompanist and crusade pianist Bruce Packey, also of Gordon.

These Youth Crusade meetings are for the purpose of impressing young people with the importance of considering the welfare of their souls. In this fast moving age, one of the great tragedies is that young people are being caught in the web of materialism with its emphasis upon wealth and social standing.

The emphasis in these meetings will be to preach the Gospel of the Bible, not the doctrine of any particular denomination. It is the sincere desire of Pastor Eliot Castillo of the First Baptist Church, not to make young people "Baptists," but rather to get them to see that every one, young and old, needs to accept Jesus Christ as his own personal Saviour and Lord.

This is shown by the services which are of an inter-denominational nature. The main speaker, Rev. Stan Allaby is a Congregationalist. The members of the quartet serve in three denominations. Dave Ranbo, assistant pastor of the Christian Missionary Alliance Church, Needham; Mark Rohrbach, Youth director of the Beltingham Methodist Church, Chelsea; Royal Smythe, Youth director of the First Baptist Church, Rockland, Mass.; and Lewis Bird, Youth director of the Brookfield Baptist Church, Bruce Packey, pianist, is the Sunday School director of the Assemblies of God Church in Beverly, Mass.

The services of both Wednesday and Thursday evening will begin at 7:30 p.m. and will probably be about an hour and a quarter in length so that the young people can be home early.

On Wednesday evening Rev. Allaby will be preaching a message entitled "Questions at the Border" and on Thursday night he'll preach on "The Meaning of the Cross."

Selectmen's News

Roy Hersom, Burlington Ave. contractor, met with the selectmen and the town engineer Monday evening to discuss a problem he has relative to catch basins on Burlington Ave. The basins adjoin house lots for which he has applied for building permits. Mr. Hersom felt the building permits may be held up if responsibility for the disposal of the resultant water is not decided.

Acting Town Manager Alfred Calabrese said that by right of prescription the town had a right to direct the flow of water over the land that Mr. Hersom would therefore be responsible for its safe passage.

Mr. Hersom felt that the town might share the cost of piping the water. Mr. Calabrese suggested that the town counsel be consulted to see if the board could decide to do so legally.

Mr. Hersom also inquired whether he might cut down a hill on property he owned on one side of the street and use the result for fill on the other side. Chairman Frank Hagerty felt that Mr. Hersom would be obliged to file a contour map with the town engineer and state what grade he intended to keep. The advice of counsel will be asked as the ruling demands an interpretation of the gravel regulation. However, Mr. Hagerty thanked Mr. Hersom for having the courtesy to consult the board.

Town Engineer George Maynard reported on the advisability of allowing the Campenella and Card construction firm, which is building the new Rte. 28, to obtain fill for the road by leveling a portion of the Mastermarino property on West St. Mr. Maynard reports that the proposals of the construction company's engineers did not meet his approval and that his suggestions did not meet theirs. The application was denied on motion of Selectman Charles Blank.

Mr. Maynard was instructed by the board to meet with Mr. McCarthy, chief engineer of the DPW and discuss further the rebuilding of the Reading end of West St. Present plans call for a forty foot wide street which would suddenly narrow to 18 feet just above the S curve near Sunceast Rd.

Mr. Maynard was also instructed to discuss the problem of the need for an elevated walk to allow children in the Hathaway Acres area to reach the proposed school on the other side of the relocated Rte. 62 at Salem St.

Chairman Hagerty reported that at a special meeting March 12 Joseph Ring was appointed to the board of registrars for three years and Harry Almsworth and John Imbimbo were re-appointed constables for 1 year terms.

Fred Horton was re-appointed veterans agent Monday evening. Letters were received by the Civil Defense unit and the police department thanking them for their help in recent lost child search in Billerica.

Last weeks taxi regulation proposal was approved by the town counsel with minute changes in wording.

Roland Fuller was appointed to the Board of Appeals. Mrs. Wavie Drew reported that a serious situation exists as a result of excavations filled with water near Catherine Ave. Mothers in the neighborhood fear to let children out alone because of the danger. The TM was reported to investigate.

St. Patrick's Day was duly celebrated. The new chairman of the board was presented a cake iced in the appropriate color courtesy of Clerk Olive Sheldon, and neatly dissected it to the pleasure of the entire assemblage.

The meeting adjourned at 12:15 a.m. without going into executive session.

At 8:05 a.m. an oil burner in the home of Mrs. Bourque of Clark Terrace became flooded. At 3:50 p.m. the ambulance took George Oatley of 47 West St., to Veteran's Hospital in Jamaica Plain.

On March 14 at 4:20 p.m. due to the storm, firemen were called to stand by while repairs were made to fallen wires on middlesex Ave., Main St., Lawrence St., School St., Glen Rd., Lake St., and at the B&M Railroad on Main St. At 7:50 p.m. the ambulance was summoned to take George Call of John St., to Dr. Fagan's office. Mr. Call had an ill child and due to the storm, could not get his car out.

On March 15, at 7:30 p.m. the ambulance was summoned to take Patrick Mackey to St. John's Hospital. Mr. Mackey was the victim of a pedestrian accident.

14 Steps to Protect Nation's Health
It takes all this to make clay pipe

- 1. Mining Clay
Clay pipe is made of selected clays. Laboratory tests are made to determine whether the clay is right. It must make a pipe perfect to dimension and strength.
- 2. Storage of Clays
It is added that a single type of clay is exactly right for making clay pipe. A mixture of clays is usually needed.
- 3. Mixing Clays
At some plants the clays are mixed at the mines. At others, mixing is done by blending the various clays from storage bins. The end objective is the same.
- 4. Grinding Clay
The grinder consists of great crushing wheels which turn in a heavy rotating perforated metal pan. The ground clay falls through the perforations.
- 5. Tempering Clay
After leaving the grinder "dry pans," the clay is screened. The fine particles pass on to the tempering mill "wet pans" where they are mixed with water.
- 6. Pressing Pipe
The moistened clay passes into the press. Here, at a terrific pressure, the pipe is extruded. The bell is formed as an integral part of the pipe.
- 7. Drying Pipe
The moist pipe is stored in large, heated drying rooms where the moisture is driven off as quickly as possible. This takes up to two weeks for the larger sizes.
- 8. Burning Pipe
The kiln is sealed tight. Temperature is increased slowly. It takes 4 to 10 days to burn and cool the pipe.
- 9. Glazing Pipe
It is very important that the kiln be cooled slowly to prevent cracking. After cooling, the pipe is trucked out.
- 10. Shipping Storage
Today, clay pipe is shipped as fast as it is made.
- 11. Setting Kiln
Every inch of space is used. Small pipes are nested in larger ones. No two surfaces are allowed to touch.
- 12. Testing Pipe
All clay pipe gets a hammer test. It must ring like a bell. Samples are tested for strength and size.
- 13. Glazing Pipe
Clay pipe is made of selected raw clays, moistened with untreated water and raised to a temperature high enough to vitrify the material. There are no chemicals, no cements, no reinforcements used. The final product is one of the most enduring materials that man can make. But to obtain this permanence requires time. It can only be had by processing the pipe at a definite speed.
- 14. Shipping Storage
For example, a piece of moist pipe is placed in a dryer where, slowly and carefully, the moisture is drawn off to weld together the clay particles. When pre-dried pipe is fired, the temperature in the kiln must be increased slowly until the entire mass of the pipe is thoroughly dry and hot. When the kiln is cooled, care and time is needed to temper the clay and glass, and bring out its true hardness. This care gives you the perfect pipe you are used to.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Students of the Junior Class of Wilmington High School are urged to register promptly at the Guidance Office, before March 20, for THE NATIONAL MERIT QUALIFICATION TEST.

Of interest to every college-bound high school student in America is the qualification test of the National Merit Scholarship Program. Dr. John Stalmaker, director, announced today in Evanston, Illinois, several new values of the 1958-59 merit scholarship program. The National Merit Scholarship Corporation administers the nation's largest independently supported college scholarship program for high school students. In the 1957-58 academic year, it provided more than $5,000,000, worth of four-year scholarships. The amount of the scholarship is determined by financial need, and they are renewable annually without further competitive examination. Dr. Stalmaker stated that the national program, which embraces all U. S. territories, and possessions, sends thousands of deserving students to college - students whose unusual talents might otherwise be wasted due to their inability to finance the increasing cost of higher education.

The 1958-59 testing program is designed to provide more service to participating students and schools. To select thousands of scholarship a preliminary screening instrument while it will serve primarily as a winners, the program has several educational planning features. These additional benefits will be new and important guidance and best realized by testing at the end of the junior year, rather than at the start of the senior year. These new values are such that many students will want to take the test for purposes of educational or vocational planning, even though they do not expect to win a scholarship. Dr. Stalmaker stated.

Rice And Cheese Lenten Palates Please

Rice and Cheese will please Lenten meal planners. Cheese is an economical way to step-up protein and calcium in diets. And, the vegetable protein of rice places it high on the lists of en- ergy foods. When combined, these two foods lend themselves to endless variations which will prove pleasing to discriminating palates.
During the past three years the steady supply of Cheddar cheese from production to stor- age has kept retail prices from varying. You are quite likely to pay about the same price during this year of 1958 as during the three years just past. With cheese in good supply at economi- cal prices and with rice too in good supply, these foods are es- pecially suitable to the planning of meatless Lenten meals. Rice and cheese will please your purse, too. Here's a tasty Lenten main dish which needs only a mixed green salad and piping hot biscuits to complete a perfect menu pattern.

Rice and Cheese
(Makes 6 to 8 servings)
1 cups cooked rice
2 cups (two 8-oz. cans) meat- less spaghetti sauce
1 cup Dairy Sour Cream
1 cup (7-oz. can) flaked tuna fish
1-1/2 teaspoons chili powder
1/4 teaspoon garlic salt
1 (8-oz.) package Borden's Vera-Sharp Cheese Slices
Preheat skillet to 350° F. Combine rice, spaghetti sauce, soup cream, tuna fish and seasonings in skillet. Cook, stirring occa- sionally, until mixture begins to boil (or until thoroughly heated). Re- duce temperature to 210° F. Cut cheese slices lengthwise into strips. Arrange over mixture in skillet. Simmer until cheese is melted. Hold at this temperature to serve.

Fireman Survives Fall

ALBANY, N. Y.—Fire Capt. William A. Schaaf, 68, (center), is shown seconds after the roof of a local restaurant gave way beneath him, causing him to fall two stories into the inferno. Treated for minor cuts and lacerations at St. Peter's Hospital, Schaaf was later released in good condition.

Tips For Teen-Age Homemakers

"Teen-age" is a pretty confusing term. To some it connotes gangling adolescents, with minds and bodies in process of growth and development. To others it is unforgivably associated with rock 'n' roll and uncontrolled gang activity. Actually, the term "teen-age" covers too large an age bracket and too broad a segment of population to have any significance at all.
While some teenagers are still studying fractions and riding their bikes after school, others have reached maturity and are aptly earning their own living.
Almost overnight, teen-age girls are married. Half of all first brides in the country are in their teens, according to a recent magazine survey, and more girls marry at 18 than at any other age. Though still "teen-age," these young brides are furnish- ing and managing their own households.
Many of these young home- makers are also holding down outside jobs as well as assuming new home responsibilities. This means a real need for infor- mation on time-saving devices and the best possible methods in home care.
Aware of this need, manu- facturers of home products are doing something about it. Lever Brothers Company, makers of new liquid Wisk, have prepared a special laundering booklet giving helpful suggestions for the best use of this concentrated, heavy-duty liquid detergent. Specific instructions are offered for sort- ing the laundry, measuring the detergent, stain removal, how to whiten nylons, etc. Special washes, such as baby clothes, are also covered.

This new laundry lesson sheet is available to all homemakers who wish to write in for it. Re- quests may be sent to the paper or to the Consumer Education Department, Lever Brothers Company, New York 22, N. Y.
Liquid Wisk, excellent for all household cleaning as well as for laundering, is unconditionally guaranteed.

Crunchy Raisin-Apple Crisp

Before the apple season comes to an end, be sure to bake this Crunchy Raisin-Apple Crisp. The heart of the crisp is a combina- tion of tart apple slices and plump raisins, while the topping is a luscious mixture of brown sugar, coconut and rolled oats which adds a nutty flavor.
Serve the tempting dessert ala mode soon - it's sure to become one of your favorites!

Crunchy Raisin-Apple Crisp
Makes 6 servings
4 to 5 cups sliced cooking apples* (4 to 6 medium-sized)
1/4 cup raisins
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/3 cup sifted enriched flour
1 cup rolled oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked)
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup flaked or shredded coconut
1/2 cup melted butter or margarine
Preheat oven to moderate (375° F.). Place apples and raisins in greased 8 x 12-inch baking dish. Sprinkle with lemon juice. Combine flour, oats, brown sugar, salt, cinnamon and coconut. Add melted butter, mixing until crumbly. Sprinkle crumb mixture over apple mixture. Bake in preheated oven (375° F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Serve warm or cold with ice cream or whipped cream. *If apples are tart, sweeten slightly.

What Ever Happened To The Sunday Suit?

Wrinkled sports shirts, skimpy sundresses, blue jeans and cow-boy outfits in Summer and equally unattractive and inappropriate clothing in Winter—these are the unfortunate replacements for what was once known, proudly, as the Sunday Suit.
But like the one-room school, the covered bridge or the open trol- ley car, Sunday-go-to-church clothes are relics of the past—lost somewhere in the murky passages of time.
What sent the Sunday Suit into the Never-Never Land? "Chalk it up to the current insistence on leisure living," says one psychol- ogist. "There is so much emphasis on leisure time, shorter hours, more freedom for the individual, that people view everything in terms of do-it-the-easy-way. Weekends are looked upon as 'free- dom days'."

In the April Catholic Digest, now on the newsstands, Kay Sulli- van points out it wasn't that the Sunday Suit of former years was so elegant, expensive or stylish. Often it was only a shiny blue serge, but it was neatly cleaned and pressed and worn with a feeling of pride. Implicit in the term Sunday Suit was the feel- ing that only one's best was suit- able for God.

Once everyone knew what you meant when you referred to your Sunday Best. But what term would serve the same purpose today? Probably Sloppy Sunday. Or Don't Bother Day.
"Nobody asks that Sunday church-goers appear dressed to the teeth in expensive clothing," says a New York City pastor. "I just ask that my parishioners wear clean, neat, modest cloth- ing; that the men wear jackets; that the women stop trying to pretend that three inches of rib- bon or an artificial flower is a hat, and that the kiddies wear their sunsuits only where they belong—on the beach."
Etiquette Authority Amy Van- derbilt points out that people seem to be going to church in costumes that were unthinkable a short time ago. "I see more wom- en in bare legs with painted toe-nails sticking out of open-toed shoes, wearing dresses more suit- ed to night clubs than church," she says. "I see men in open- necked sports shirts and children with unshined shoes and un- pressed clothes."

What can be done to restore the pleasant custom of dress- ing up for Sunday church? It could start with the family unit, with each member determined to keep that "Easter Sunday" look the year round.

OPTIMISTIC — PESSIMISTIC?
In predicting the success or failure of the 1958 baseball team, one must consider a two letter word, "IF". At the outset of this forecast, one must say that he is "Pessimistically - Optimistic".
The following reasons will explain this dual outlook.

Last year Lowell Tech had a rather poor season winning only half as many games as it had lost.
What was the reason for this? It certainly wasn't the hitters' fault.
As a matter of fact four of the regulars hit over .300 and another two hit better than .270. What was the reason then?
Let's consider the pitching staff first. Of the four starting pitchers only one lived up to expectations.
The other three did not help too much for various reasons, including sore arms or not enough work.
The only bright spot about the pitching was done in relief work by Tech's only lefty. He pitched well on every occasion and also got very timely base hits in the games he appeared in.

Next consideration is the defense.
The infield last year was made up of three "rookies" and one veteran

The infield, although erratic at times came along fast at the end of the season mainly because the final combination began to jell. The performances on the Vermont trip exemplified their improvement.
Final consideration is given to the outfielders. The "garden patrolmen" were also not up to par defensively, but with another season of experience and the addition of a few new faces the outfield situation, can be passed along in expectation of a better year.

This year we look for a good year, if the first-year men return for a second year on the diamond.
Already it is known that two of four regular infielders are inelligible scholastically. This means replacing two men before we even start the season. However, there are about eight or nine lettermen and two or three more veterans returning thus giving Coach Yarnell a good supply of experience to draw from. There also are rumors around school that one or two potential pitchers and a catcher are anxiously awaiting an opportunity to show their colors.

The Booster's Booth At Stevens

On Saturday, the 22, the Booster's clubs of Wilmington will hold forth within their Booth, which will be set up at Steven's Market, Main St. This will be for the benefit of the public, who are inquiring about the Sylvania Slim Line Television set, which is to be drawn in the Spring, the proceeds of which will be used toward the Spring Supper for the Baseball, Hockey and Basketball teams of Wilmington High.

The ladies and gentlemen of the Boosters are hard at work, delving into ways and means of tendering this supper to our boys and girls. There is not too much time, and we hope, wholeheartedly, to make a success of Saturday, so far as selling tickets is concerned.

It has been a pleasure to serve the Athletics of our Town, and all of our citizens who have combined to make this affair a success, have not regretted it for one moment.

May the young men and women members of our teams always bear the name of Wilmington as it has been borne this past year; with unquestionable honor and determination to come out on top.

We plan a meeting, also, some time in the ensuing week, to take place the latter part of the week; further notice will be given on this by the PA system of the High School.

And right now, we have still other names of Wilmington Boosters, which pour in to us in a seeming endless stream; people who really want to be part of what ever it is that makes our spirit what it is!

Good Nutrition At Lower Cost

Today's enriched bread is continuing to gain recognition for its contribution to diet, particularly among people who want to hold their nutrition level high and their food costs down. E. E. Kelley, Jr., Lakeland, Fla., president of the American Bakers Association said recently at a baker meeting in New Orleans.

The percentage of gain in baker bread production during the past five years has been greater than the percentage of gain in population, Kelley stated.

"This," he declared, "is an indication that per capita consumption of bread nationally is on the increase."

"More and more nutritional authorities are placing emphasis on the value of bread in the diet, whether it is a subsistence, weight losing or weight gaining diet," Kelley said. "People have learned that six slices of enriched bread contribute 18% of the protein, 16% of the calcium, 15% of the riboflavin, 24% of the thiamine, 30% of the iron and 23% of the niacin but only 12% of the calories recommended daily for the average man."

"The importance of protein in the diet is being emphasized by today's nutritionists. A recent technical publication points out that one glass of milk and four slices of bread provide 25% of the recommended daily allowance of protein and 60% of the recommended allowance of the amino acid lysine."

"Measured in cents per pound, in terms of costs of nutrients and in terms of minutes of time required to earn a loaf, bread is one of the very best food buys. Today's enriched white bread is the finest loaf nutritionally ever offered to the American people. It is superior to breads of yesterday because it contains milk and the B vitamins and iron of the enrichment formula. Enriched bread contributes better health to the public and provides a steadily widening market to the farmer for wheat, for nonfat milk, for shortening and for sugar."

"Home That Housecleans Itself"

WHY TOLERATE DIRT? A new almost magic dry cell electronic air filter keeps the whole house clean electronically. This unit traps up to 90% of air borne dirt, dust and pollen, welcome news to every housewife and to so many allergy sufferers. It is priced within the means of every home owner and potential home owner, and is adaptable to old homes as well as new.

Electro-Klean, introduced by American Air Filter Company of Louisville, Kentucky, brings an era of more cleanliness, more healthfulness—and for the home owner, more leisure. Draperies and furniture stay clean longer; walls stay bright. Cleaning and redecorating bills are substantially reduced. Best of all, no more daily dusting, since trapping dirt in the air before it settles, means that a "once over" occasionally will keep polished surfaces sparkling clean.

The unit is installed on the return air side of any forced air furnace or central air conditioner. It requires no water, plumbing or sewer connections, no special wiring circuits. Maintenance cost is less than that of a 10 watt bulb. It is approved by F. H. A.

He was also found guilty of malicious damage to property, sounding a false alarm and burning a bridge. These charges were also placed on file. Taking the Edge Off DAMPNESS, WARM WEATHER AND WARPING can cause doors to stick annoyingly. A few rubs on the troublesome spot with a new steel sandpaper, Dragon-Skin, will remedy the situation within seconds. This is only one of the many household-repair chores made easy by the new product, which can be used to smooth or shape anything made of wood, plastic, or even soft metal. Dragon-Skin is popular with women because it requires so much less effort to use, and lasts much longer, than ordinary sandpaper.
